ANNUAL SEAL SALE OPENS

Emblem Of Tuberculosis
Crusade Dates From Ancient JerusalemBy MILDRED M. BLAIR
Publicity Chairman

Three thousand packets of Christmas Seals are being mailed to the people of El Dorado County; and again, as in other years the El Dorado County Tuberculosis Association is asking the whole-hearted response which heretofore has been so graciously given. On these proceeds alone, depend the extent of El Dorado County's ability to co-operate in the state and national program of eradication.

The organization is headed by Dr. A. A. McKinnon who is serving his third term as President, and to carry out the well-formulated plans for detection and control of tuberculosis among the school children in our county, it is hoped this year's proceeds will again exceed those of previous years. Following closely the Red Cross Roll Call, and although a sister organization of the Red Cross, it is in no way connected, the funds raised by the annual sale of Christmas Seals are used solely in the fight on tuberculosis. Although red is the color of both emblems, the Red Cross is internationally distinguished by the form of the Greek Cross; the Tuberculosis Association is internationally distinguished by the double-barred, known as the Lorraine Cross.

CATTLE ASSOCIATION MEETS AT BAY CITY DECEMBER 8, 9

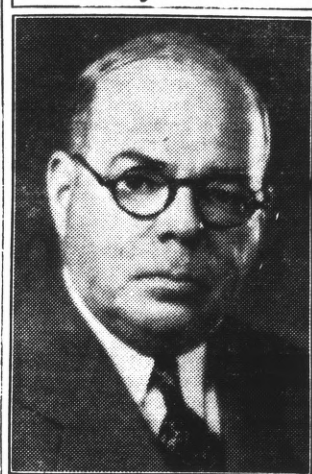

The annual convention of the California Cattlemen's Association will be held at the Palace Hotel, San Francisco, Friday and Saturday, December 8 and 9, 1939. Hugh Baber of Chico, president of the Association has issued an invitation to all cattlemen in the state to attend the meeting.

One of the foremost matters for discussion will be the recently proposed trade agreement with Argentina. In this proposal, the Administration at Washington has listed a number of Argentine cattle products upon which tariff concessions will be considered. Among these products are hides and canned meats. The cattlemen point out that even with the present rates of duty, large quantities of hides and canned beef are entering the United States.

Thus, in September, 13,000,000 pounds of canned beef were imported from South American countries, and as far as can be ascertained, this is the greatest tonnage of this commodity ever imported in one month. This certainly shows, say the cattlemen, that the present tariff on canned beef cannot be considered a barrier, rather that it actually indicates an inadequate tariff.

W. J. Davey was among the Tuesday callers in the county seat from Garden Valley.

FIRE DESTROYS STORE, STOCK

Twin Oaks, Owned By
A. J. Rupley, Razed
In Blaze Tuesday Night

The Twin Oaks store, on U. S. Route 50 approximately three and one-half miles east of Placerville, was destroyed by fire about nine o'clock Tuesday evening with a loss estimated at about $2,500.

The establishment was owned by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Rupley and was operated by Mrs. Hary Holliday and her son, Charles.

The Hollidays were able to save some household articles but the building and its store furnishings and stock were virtually a total loss. Mr. Rupley said he carried insurance on the place.

Mrs. Holliday, who was in Placerville Wednesday morning, reported she was chatting with a friend in her living quarters which are below the main floor level when she noticed from a window the lights of a passing car which indicated that the car had been stopped and was backing toward the front of the building.

Presuming that the car contained a prospective purchaser of fruit, she went to the main floor of the building and found that the building was afire above the ceiling.

The passersby who had discovered the fire—no one learned their names—carried some goods from the store room to safety and then went to the Rupley residence to call the State Division of Forestry fire crew at Mt. Danaher.

This was the first intimation Mr. and Mrs. Rupley had that the store was afire.

The state crew reported that the building was thoroughly afire when they reached the scene and they were able to do little but prevent the spread of the flames.

The cause of the fire was not immediately determined.

For Sale Of Atlanta Property Is Under Way;
Timms Will Buy And Lease To Film Executive

Probably influenced by the recent success of operators of the Alhambra mine, there has been a lively flurry of interest in mining property in the Kelsey district during the past week or ten days and, if reports be true, several transactions are under way.

J. F. McKee, of Placerville, reported Wednesday morning that there is a deal pending for the sale of the Atlanta mine, which adjoins the Alhambra.

Mr. McKee, who represents seven owners in the property who have owned the twenty-acre tract for many years, said that the deal has progressed to a point that the purchase price is in escrow.

The property, adjoining the Alhambra on the southwest, is being sold to Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur O. Timm, of Kelsey, who report an agreement to bond and lease the property to Clarence S. Brown, said to be an official of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer film concern, at Hollywood.

FINLAND CALM UNDER THREAT

Reds Increase Pressure,
Demanding Capitulation
On War; Sea Battle ReportedBy JOE ALEX MORRIS
U. P. Foreign News Editor

Soviet Russia pressed Finland almost to the limit today with demands for capitulation or war.

Hour after hour, the Soviets tried to force home to Finland the idea that they must give in to Russian demands for withdrawal of Finnish troops from the frontier and for naval bases on Finnish territory or war would soon sweep the land of lakes and snow.

Finland's population of 3,800,000 kept calm, although it was obvious that the only aid they would get would be moral support from the Scandinavians, the Allies and Italy if the weight of Russia's 180,000,000 population is thrown against them.

From the Norwegian coast came reports of another battle in the North Sea, with both airplanes and warships participating not far outside Norwegian territorial waters. Persons on shore said they could see the flashes of big guns and hear cannonading.

$100,000 FIRE SWEEPS 57-ROOM HOTEL AT MARTINEZ

MARTINEZ (UP)—Fire swept through the three-story 57-room Martinez Hotel in the heart of the business district today, driving 50 guests to the street and causing damage estimated in excess of $100,000.

Firemen from Martinez, Concord and the suburb of Mountain View, numbering about 100 men, fought the flames and succeeded in confining them to the wooden hotel structure.

Seven stores on the first floor of the building suffered heavily from water damage.

FARMERS INTERESTED IN WATER FACILITIES DEVELOPMENT SHOULD MAKE NEEDS KNOWN, SAYS CONSERVATIONIST

El Dorado County farmers who are interested in the development of small water facilities should make applications at once, says Glenn E. Paxton, Area Conservationist, Soil Conservation Service.

"Now is a favorable time for the Soil Conservation technicians to make plans in the County," said Paxton. "Next spring and summer they will be working mostly in other counties and will not be so readily available to local farmers as at the present time."

Under the Water Facilities Program, technical and financial assistance is available for a number of purposes. Among these are the construction of small irrigation systems, the building of overnight storage reservoirs, or reservoirs for the storage of winter run-off. Stock watering tanks also can be made and springs developed.

Since the start of the program, fourteen applications have been received and four of the jobs are either finished or are being completed at the present time.

One of the principal uses to which this program can be put is that of

Teichert & Son Gain
General Contract On
New Summit Section

Award of contract for the reconstruction of 3 1/2 miles of highway on U. S. Route 50, above and below Phillips, is being made by the Public Roads Administration to A. Teichert & Son, Inc., of Sacramento, according to word received Wednesday by the Eldorado National Forest.

Bids were opened on November 14 and the Teichert firm submitted the lowest bid aggregating $140,998.20. Other engineering and supervision costs are estimated to bring the total cost of this particular job to around $160,000. The job consists of realignment, clearing, grading and bituminous surfacing.

Practically the entire cost of this job is being paid from Forest Highway funds, contributed from income derived from the National Forests. Supervisor Edwin F. Smith stated. Details are lacking as to when the work is to begin and the date of completion, but there is little doubt that the job will be completed by the end of 1940, Smith said.

LIQUOR PERMIT IS SUSPENDED

Elkhorn Case To Be Taken
Up Again Dec. 18th By Board Of Equalization

SACRAMENTO (UP)—The liquor license of the Elkhorn tavern, in Placerville, operated by P. Barone and Marian Armstrong, was revoked temporarily in a hearing before the state Board of Equalization today pending further hearing before the board on December 18th.

The revocation of the license was asked by El Dorado County officials and officials of the Placerville city government and by state liquor enforcement officers who informed the board they had received complaints of patrons being "rolled" in the establishment and of patrons being persuaded while under the influence of liquor to write checks which they later did not remember having written.

Attorney Hale day, representing the operators, declined to present any case before the board, stating that he has been engaged to defend the two on December 1 in Placerville city court on a charge of selling liquor to persons all ready intoxicated and that to present any defense before the board would reveal his case to District Attorney Henry S. Lyon.

George Stout, state liquor administrator, recommended a postponement of action on the matter but William G. Bonelli, board member, moved for suspension of the license and for a continuance until the December 18th meeting.

The board had a letter from City Attorney Thomas Maul stating that he had heard from one of the clients that on one occasion after visiting the tavern he had been presented with a check for $120 which he did not recall writing, and that on another occasion he had been asked to honor a check for $1,000 which he did not recall writing.

District Attorney Henry S. Lyon told the board he had received numerous complaints, "not less than thirty," he said, indicating that some patrons of the place were being victimized by the operators of the tavern.

The district attorney also declared that the operators or spokesmen for them had offered to surrender their liquor license in return for the dismissal of charges against them.

At preliminary meetings of the league this year Coach L. A. Brown was re-elected league president and George Duffy was named secretary. The entries of the seven Clubs were properly filed and the schedule committee reported Wednesday morning that it's work has been completed but can not be announced until it is established definitely that the proposed playing dates will not conflict with previously scheduled events at the high school gym.

The committee said there are hopes that this question may be decided today.

The seven quintets entered are the high school, with one team, Snowline and Mosquito CCC Camps, the Forest Service, the American Legion, Gray's All-Stars and Mac's Jumbos.

5,208 ARE REFUSED AUTO DRIVING LICENSES IN NINE MONTHS

SACRAMENTO — It takes more than an application to obtain a license to drive a motor vehicle in California.

Any one of 840,846 persons who applied to department of motor vehicles in the first nine months of this year will testify to the fact that the state agency is quietly going about the task of weeding out potential accident causes through incapable drivers. Exactly 113,559 of the applicants discovered that they could not immediately pass the tests for a license and, on a second or subsequent examination, 5,208 of the primary failures were permanently refused the privilege to operate a vehicle in California.

Poor eyesight, inability to understand rules of the road, physical defects and inability to actually operate a vehicle safely, were reasons for failure, according to Howard R. Philbrick, director of motor vehicles, who contends that preventing a deficient driver from operating a car on California's highways is the possible factor in saving several lives in addition to that of the person denied a license.

Sports Parade

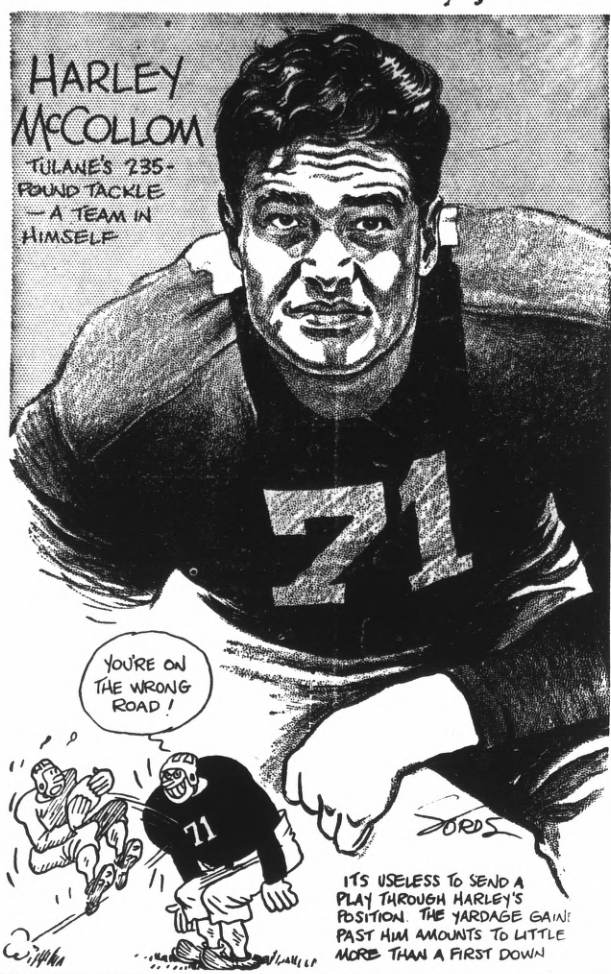

By HENRY MCLEMORE

NEW YORK (UP)—If I had enough concrete, and a place to pitch it, I would build a football stadium with 5,000,000 seats, print myself 5,000,- 000 tickets at five bucks a throw and introduce the Round Robin Bowl.

During the last week of December and the first week of January, I would hold enough games for the recognized four top teams in the United States to play one another and determine to the satisfaction of all 5,000,000 and myself which was the really best team in the country.

At the risk of having some chronic naggers write in and complain, I will name the four top teams in the United States now. They are, and the order in which they are named means nothing: Cornell, Tennessee, Texas A. & M. and the University of Southern California. One is from the east, one from the southeast, one from the west and one from the southwest. Between them, they already have demonstrated their superiority over claimants from all other sections.

I doubt if any football season within memory has produced four such top flight eleven's. I have seen three of them—Tennessee, Cornell and USC—and heard enough about the other to know that it belongs in the same bracket. But no amount of argument ever will settle the question of which is the best of the four, because there is no way in which they can meet and settle the argument with the football.

Take it from me, there is little to choose between them. The first I saw was Tennessee, and on the day the Vols smashed Alabama, 21-0, you couldn't picture a team capable of beating them. That is, until you saw Cornell get off the floor after a terrific beating by a fine Ohio State squad, and show an irresistible attack. Cornell had everything in its comeback drive that Tennessee had against Alabama—speed, drive, blocking, precision and power. Then came last Saturday at South Bend and a glimpse of the Trojans in their victory over a Notre Dame team that had beaten seven powerful. Southern California had all Cornell and Tennessee had, plus a little more manpower. The quarterbacking of the Trojans was a bit at fault, but that didn't matter. Any signal brought a fast, 200 pound running in from somewhere.

As for Texas A. & M. men who see more of a football game than co-eds and pompoms, tell me Coach Homer Norton has corralled some of the wildest young brutes seen outside of a rodeo and polished them up into one of the smoothest units the southwestern conference has developed.

On second thought, I doubt if 5,000,000 seats would be enough. All of Texas would be there, all of Tennessee, all of Southern California and the New Englanders who haven't had a really good ivy league eleven since Pudge Heffelfinger was not only pudging but heffelfingering here in the dear old east.

If you have a concrete mixer and options on these four teams, don't hesitate to call me, no matter what time of night. A more concrete idea wouldn't hurt either.

rairie Cross.

Turning back the pages of history, down the centuries to medieval times, we find Godfrey de Bouillon, Duke of Lorraine and first Christian ruler of Jerusalem, riding forth fully equipped as a knight in armor, proudly leading his army of Crusaders.

At that time, heraldy was at its height, and at was the custom of nobles and knights to go forth to battle each distinguished by his own individual coat of arms. That of the Duke of Lorraine was the double-barred, or Lorraine Cross which was used by his family for centuries after his death.

In 1902, at the First International Conference on Tuberculosis in Berlin, Dr. Sersiron, of Paris, made the eloquent plea that the Lorraine Cross be adopted as the insignia of the world-wide crusade against tuberculosis.

Although forty-two foreign countries take part in this campaign, and each country annually designs its own Christmas Seal, the Lorraine Cross, the symbol of courage and hope, is the universal emblem.

From December 1, until Christmas Day, El Dorado County has again the privilege of taking part in this modern crusade, and becoming a link in the mighty coat of mail being forged throughout our nation. This battle is fought not with the accoutrements of the middle ages but with the armor of modern times—education, the finest in medical science, and the newest in methods of detection, prevention and cure of this age-old enemy of man.

As a chain is only as strong as its weakest link, your dollar help to forge the link which is El Dorado County?

Spaghetti goes to a Party as a hot buffet dish

By Dorothy Greig

MEN are really responsible for the swing in party food from fluff to good honest dishes—at parties at which men are guests. At gatherings for "the girls" the food is something else again, which is all right, too. We can bear with each other's flights of fancy, and enjoy them.

Men, however, are different. We all know how gingerly they poke at an unaccustomed dish and with what frank suspicion they view it. So a smart hostess caters to her men guests by serving foods they recognize and enjoy. Almost any good food is likely to turn up at a modern party.

One gay young hostess we know scored a big hit recently with a spaghetti dish served quite informally from a buffet. Accompanying it was a tomato and meat sauce, blended with keen seasonings and cooked down until it was thick and rich. Over that spaghetti it was wonderful!

This is how she made it:

Spaghetti, Italiane Style

Meat Sauce:
4 tablespoons olive oil
4 tablespoons butter
4 tablespoons garlic, finely chopped
2 medium onions, chopped (2 cups)
1 pound beef, ground
2 cups mushrooms (sliced)
2 cans condensed consommé
2 cans condensed tomato soup
2 cans tomato paste (6 oz. size)
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper

Cook the finely chopped garlic and onion in the butter and olive oil until soft, but not brown. Add the ground beef and mushroom slices and continue sauteing until they are browned. Then add the consommé, tomato soup, tomato paste and seasonings. Cover and simmer 20-30 minutes to blend thoroughly the flavors.

Spaghetti:
8 boxes spaghetti (9 oz. size)
Grated Parmesan Cheese
Cook the spaghetti in boiling salt water until tender.
To serve:—Serve a generous portion of spaghetti on the plate with another spaghetti dish that would be good for an informal occasion is this one: (It serves fewer people.)

Italiane Spaghetti with Chicken Livers and Mushrooms

Sauce:
4 tablespoons butter
4 tablespoons olive oil
4 cloves garlic, finely chopped
1 onion (chopped)
2 pound chicken livers, sliced
1 cup mushrooms, sliced
2 cans condensed tomato soup
1 can tomato paste (6 oz. size)
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper

Cook the finely chopped garlic and onion in the butter and olive oil until soft, but not brown. Add the sliced chicken livers and mushroom slices and continue sauteing until they are browned. Then add the tomato soup, tomato paste and seasonings. Cover and simmer 20-30 minutes to blend the flavor.

Spaghetti:
1 box spaghetti (9 oz. size)
Grated Parmesan Cheese
Cook the spaghetti in boiling salt water until tender.

To serve:—Serve a generous portion of spaghetti on the plate with a large spoonful of sauce over the spaghetti. Sprinkle with Parmesan Cheese. Serves 6.
And as a final kindness to guests, cut the spaghetti down, say, from yard lengths to foot long lengths. Guests can then wind them forkwise in the traditional method, but they don't have to work so hard at it.

ECONOMY MOVE COMPELS ARMY TO CURTAIL EXPANSION

WASHINGTON, (UP)—President Roosevelt's plan to economize on regular appropriations in the 1941 budget, it was learned today, will force the army to abandon plans for a protective army of 600,000 regulars and national guardsmen.

Officials said that although the national defense budget would reach a record-breaking $2,300,000,000, it was smaller than had been predicted in some informed quarters and probably would allow the army to increase its present strength of 462,000 to only 500,000 men.

The army's original expansion proposal, it was said, called for increasing regular personnel from 227,000 to 320,000. Such an increase, it was estimated, would cost approximately $1,900,000,000.

Santa Cruz Slayer Wins Commutation

SACRAMENTO, (UP)—Allan D. Boggs, Santa Cruz wife slayer, today had his death sentence commuted to life imprisonment by Governor Culbert Olson.

Boggs was convicted of first degree murder on June 22, 1937. He received several reprieves and the governor's lengthy commutation message upheld the defense contention that "there is sufficient doubt that Boggs acted while in full possession of his mental faculties."

POLICE CALLED AS RELIEF CRISIS GROWS ACUTE IN CLEVELAND

CLEVELAND, (UP)—City officials ordered extra squads of police to two relief officers today to quell pushing crowds clamoring for food orders.

Sixteen thousand men and women were without regular food orders today and others were on curtailed rations. Major H. Burton assured them none would starve.

Burton stopped the food orders of 8,000 single persons and 4,000 children's couples on relief so that he could feed children. Relief funds were virtually gone and it appeared that none would be available before January 1.

$1 FINE SUSPENDED IS "ECHO" OF BIG GAME

PALO ALTO, (UP)—A University of California sophomore who was escorted from the Bear rooting section before 60,000 spectators at the California-Stanford football game for "riding" a special policeman, was under a suspended fine of $1 today.

The fine was assessed against Frank Rieber by Justice of the Peace Edward E. Hardy (Stanford '27), who remitted the $1 because he saw "no reason to punish Rieber for what 8,000 other rooters were doing."

ACT NOW TO AVOID DELAY IN AUTO LICENSES, MOTORISTS TOLD

SACRAMENTO—Out-of-state vehicle owners who presently are operating automobiles on non-resident permits but who must register their cars in California in January today were advised to check registration procedure now.

To assist out-of-state motorists in the complexities of registration caused by widely-varying state regulations, Howard R. Philbrick, director of motor vehicles, has instructed all departmental offices to examine titles and registration cards and to inspect vehicles in advance of annual registration period.

"Non-resident applications prepared now by department of motor vehicles will save long and unnecessary delays in the rush period of January," said Philbrick. "Employees of the department are better equipped now to study individual problems and will assist in every possible way to obtain missing papers necessary to establish title."

Branch motor vehicle department offices or California Highway Patrol offices are situated in all counties.

Kinnick, Iowa Back, Gets Football Award

NEW YORK, (UP)—Nile Kinnick, Iowa University's versatile halfback, will receive the Heisman Memorial Trophy, awarded annually to the country's best football player by the Downtown Athletic Club, it was announced today.

BY UNITED PRESS

LUREN Dudley Dickinson, Michigan's 80-year-old governor for whom waggish Wisconsin Republicans suggested they exchange their Gov. Julius Hell, is "taking things easy" now, but people haven't forgotten the nationwide notice he received last summer for his criticism of social life in the East.

Varying nationwide comment on his attacks on liquor, "preying" socialites, and smoking mothers only increased his activity, and he spoke so often before the radio that his physician advised him to adopt a less strenuous schedule. He had been quietly tending to state affairs for some time when Gov. Hell expressed a wish in Chicago to be governor of Michigan for a few days in order to "straighten out" several problems, particularly the Chrysler labor dispute.

Dickinson was born April 15, 1859, in Niagara county, N. Y., but was taken to Michigan a year later. He taught school there later and held local and state offices 40 years before the death of Gov. Frank D. Fitzgerald elevated him to the chief executive's position from the lieutenant-governorship he had won seven times.

He says he grew up in a neighborhood where the only religious services, held in a schoolhouse, were Sunday school classes in session only through the summer. His parents were converted after they came to Michigan, he said, and he associated with a group of contemporaries who attended card parties and dances and frequented pool halls—activities to which he later found objection.

His crusading began with adulthood, and for years he was a leader in the Methodist church and in the state Anti-Saloon League. These affiliates, rather than political campaigns, which he scorned, reportedly kept him in office so many years.

Dickinson had spoken numerous times against drinking and gambling, but it was not until he became governor that his words were spread over the nation. His neighbors in Charlotte, Mich., near where his farm home is situated, decided after his summer speeches that he was a "nice old man but hadn't been around much."

To such criticism, Dickinson is serenely oblivious. He still prays for Divine guidance in affairs of state, calls on his constituents to pray on urgent labor or legislative questions, and defends his "pipeline to God," which he explains by saying:

"It's simple enough—you have electric and gas lines bearing comforts you can get only by making a connection. If you don't make any effort to connect with the line, you won't find any moral or spiritual uplift until you make the connection."

Dickinson is driven to Lansing, the Michigan capital, nearly every day from his farm, where he lives simply and quietly with his wife, the former Zora D. Cooley, whom he married in 1888. They had an adopted daughter, who died before he became governor.
